

Gabrielle Barr

Gabrielle Barr, MSI

Gabrielle Barr, B.A., M.S.I., is the archivist at the Office of NIH History and Stetten Museum. In addition to her responsibilities of making physical and digital collections accessible to researchers, answering reference requests, and assisting with outreach endeavours, she has taken an active part of trying to capture and preserve NIH's role during the COVID-19 pandemic including spearheading the initiative "Behind the Mask: Real Stories from NIH Staff About Life During the COVID-19 Pandemic."

